Congress Opens Week With Aim Of Ajournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is entering a clean-up, get-away week, hoping to clear a heavy work calendar and recess until Jan. 21.

One of the first items on the Senate's agenda is to confirm one of its own members, Ohio Republican William B. Saxbe, as attorney general.

President Nixon nominated Saxbe for the Cabinet post after Elliot L. Richardson resigned rather than carry out an order to fire Archibald Cox as special Watergate prosecutor.

The Senate also was starting off the week with action on a $5.8 billion foreign aid appropriation bill passed by the House.

The measure includes $2.2 billion requested by Nixon to help Israel replace weapons lost in its October war with Egypt and Syria.

The legislative gamut for Congress in its adjournment drive also ranges from defense funds to emergency fuel conservation and home rule for the District of Columbia.

And still in dispute between the two branches of Congress are different versions of legislation providing a two-stage, 11 per cent boost in Social Security benefits.

Another trouble spot is an energy bill that would confer sweeping authority on the President to ration gasoline and take other steps to conserve scarce fuels.

The House added to differences with the Senate over the emergency measure by writing in an amendment to ban allocation of fuel for busing children past neighborhood schools.

The Senate previously had rejected an anti-busing amendment, and Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said that ironing out of this controversy may delay adjournment.

Senate-House conferees also will have to reach accord on a defense appropriation bill, the biggest of all money measures. It totaled $73.3 billion as it passed the Senate, $836 million less than the House voted.

The emergency fuel allocation bill is just one of several measures growing out of the energy crisis awaiting final action before adjournment. Another would set up a centralized agency to deal with the problem, while another would lower highway speed limits.

The Senate will vote Tuesday for a third time on cutting off debate on a measure to restore a U.S. embargo on Rhodesian chrome imports in accord with United Nations sanctions voted in 1968.

Two attempts to halt the debate and force the bill to a vote fell four and two votes short of the required two-thirds majority.

And a third attempt may be made to break a filibuster against a bill to put the legal services for the poor program under an independent government corporation. Supporters of the bill missed by only one vote Friday in getting the necessary two-thirds margin.

Arab Terrorists Slay 21, Skyjack Jet From Rome

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Palestinian guerrillas bombed an American plane in Rome's airport today, killing at least 21 persons, police said. The terrorists escaped to Athens in a hijacked German jet with an undetermined number of hostages.

Greek police said the hijacked aircraft landed at the main Athens airport and the guerrillas negotiated with Greek authorities for release of two Palestinians held by the military-backed Greek government.

The hijackers threatened to blow up the Lufthansa Boeing 737 with all the hostages if the two were not released, an airline spokesman reported.

The spokesman said the Arab guerrillas informed the control tower that one of those aboard was "seriously injured and may die."

Police said all 11 passengers in the first-class section of a loading Pan American World Airways jetliner were killed when two of the terrorists ran up two boarding ramps and threw incendiary bombs inside.

The two returned and joined their companions aboard a Lufthansa Boeing 737 with a German crew of five.

The plane appeared headed for Beirut before it landed in Athens and sources at the Beirut International Airport had said the hijackers were requesting "urgent preparations for an emergency landing."

The informants in Beirut said the pilot of the commandeered plane had radioed that the craft had a damaged door that prevented him from flying at a high altitude.

The bomb hurled in Rome ripped two holes in the Pan American Boeing 707 and set it afire. One gaping hole was visible in the roof of the forward cabin and another in the rear.

Police sources said all 11 passengers in first class were dead. They said two of the terrorists may have been wounded by police fire.

Police at the San Camillo Hospital said 10 persons, including two Americans, were brought in for treatment from the airport. Dozens of ambulances and fire trucks went to and from the airport.

Police said there were four hijackers who described themselves as Palestinians over the commandeered jetliner's radio. Lufthansa officials in Frankfurt said the crew included a pilot, copilot, two stewardesses and a woman ramp agent.

In Bonn, the West German Foreign Ministry set up a "crisis staff" to watch developments.

An official said the terror began after the Arabs had walked through a transit lounge to the baggage control and were asked to open their luggage for a routine security check.

They did, and pulled out submachine guns and hand grenades. They then grabbed a security officer and five policemen, sprayed several plate glass windows with their guns and walked toward the Lufthansa plane.

But before boarding, two terrorists ran up to the parked Pan American jetliner and threw at least one bomb at it.

A Pan American spokesman said the jet had stopped over on its flight from New York to Beirut and Teheran, Iran.

The shooting panicked travelers and airport employees. Police evacuated all airport buildings after the attack at about 1 p.m.—7 a.m. EST.

The terrorists struck as three Arabs were being tried in Rome courts on charges of plotting to strike down an Israeli airliner with rocket launchers. They were arrested during a raid on an apartment near the airport last Sept. 5.

That attack was to have coincided with the anniversary of the Palestinian massacre of Israeli athletes at the Munich Olympic games Sept. 5. Five Arabs were arrested, and two were released pending a later trial.

There were reports that one of the three on trial was an important member of the Palestinian guerrilla movement.

Metzenbaum Likely Senate Pick

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate vote expected today on the nomination of U.S. Sen. William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio, to be attorney general has intensified speculation in his home state over who will succeed him.

Two Ohio newspapers said Saturday they had learned Cleveland businessman Howard M. Metzenbaum will be appointed to fill the seat.

Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan reportedly had been leaning toward a "caretaker" appointment, to avoid the looming Democratic primary battle between Metzenbaum and former astronaut John Glenn. Both are announced candidates for the position in the 1974 election.

The governor's office had no comment Friday on reports in the Cleveland Plain Dealer and the Dayton Journal-Herald.

Speculation was increased because Saxbe's colleagues in the Senate are believed certain to confirm him overwhelmingly.

The Senate Judiciary Committee gave Saxbe its stamp of approval Thursday by a vote of 15-1.

Two weeks earlier, the Senate voted 75-16 in favor of a bill reducing the salary for the justice post in an effort to remove a possible constitutional bar to Saxbe's appointment.

In a copyrighted story, The Plain Dealer said Gilligan decided on Metzenbaum during a meeting Thursday with his advisers and informed the millionaire publisher and industrialist at the governor's mansion.

A source close to the governor was quoted as saying Gilligan considered a caretaker appointment a "copout."

The Dayton Journal-Herald said Metzenbaum's appointment was "almost certain." Its copyrighted story was attributed to unidentified aides who attended the Thursday meeting.

Saxbe is expected to resign officially early next month if he is confirmed. His term runs to Jan. 3, 1975.

Both Glenn and Metzenbaum have announced they want the Democratic nomination next spring. Gilligan has been reported under pressure from county party leaders and big labor who support Metzenbaum.

Running as an incumbent in the party primary and next fall's general election is expected to boost the chances of Gilligan's choice.

The only dissenting vote among Senators on the Judiciary Committee came from Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., who believes Saxbe is constitutionally ineligible.

The Senate's earlier vote came on an administration sponsored measure to cut the attorney general's salary from $60,000 to $35,000.

The Constitution bars members of Congress from being named to federal posts for which their pay has been raised during the member's term of office.

Saxbe was a Senator in 1969 when Congress raised the pay of cabinet members from $35,000 to $60,000.

Many Senators who voted against passage have stated they approve of President Nixon's choice, but do not believe the pay reduction legislation makes the appointment constitutional.

Nixon withheld formal nomination until the congressional ruling on Saxbe's eligibility.

The Judiciary Committee's approval of the nomination came after only two days of hearings.

Accord Reported On Geneva Talks

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger ended his seven-nation Middle East peace mission today and announced "complete agreement" on opening the Geneva peace conference.

He completed more than 10 hours of meetings with Israeli leaders today and then flew to Lisbon for talks with Portuguese Premier Marcello Caetano.

Before departing Lod International Airport, Kissinger told newsmen that both the Israelis and Arabs have agreed that the opening phase of the Geneva talks should deal with the separation of Israeli and Egyptian forces on the Suez Front.

"We have been informed that if the other parties will attend (the conference), that Israel will send a delegation," Kissinger said.

The American secretary earlier said that he was optimistic the Geneva talks, originally scheduled for Tuesday, could get under way by Friday.

He described his 6½ hours of discussions with Premier Golda Meir Sunday night as "very friendly, very warm, very constructive" and told newsmen, "We reached complete agreement about the procedures and terms of reference of the opening of the conference."

Kissinger arrived in Israel Sunday afternoon. After completing discussions with Israeli officials today he prayed at a memorial to six million Jews killed during World War II.

The predominant topic of Kissinger's talks in Israel reportedly was the role to be played by the United Nations at the peace conference. The Arab states, enjoying the support of the majority in the world body, want the talks held under U.N. auspices. Israel prefers United States and Soviet supervision.

Israel also is concerned about the fate of an estimated 120 Israelis captured by Syria during the October war. Mrs. Meir said before Kissinger's arrival that Israel would not deal with Syria at the Geneva conference unless Syria handed over a list of the prisoners of war and allowed Red Cross representatives to visit them. She added that this would not prevent Israel's dealing with Egypt and Jordan at the parley.

Informed sources in Damascus said Kissinger was unable to obtain the POW list from President Hafez Assad during his visit to the Syrian capital Saturday. But Israel's refusal to deal with Syria should have no effect on the first stages of the Geneva conference since the first order of business is to be negotiations for the withdrawal of Israeli and Egyptian troops along the Suez Canal.

Heavy Snow, Gusty Winds Hammer East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A taste of winter choked much of the East today with heavy snow, freezing rains, sleet and gusting winds.

Although winter doesn't start officially until 7:08 p.m. EST Friday, six inches of snow covered Washington, D.C., Sunday night and from two to five inches fell from the Virginias to eastern New York.

Freezing rain and sleet extended from eastern Virginia to the southern New England coast today, and rain dampened the Carolinas.

Heavy snow warnings were posted from Virginia and West Virginia to eastern Pennsylvania, where as much as 12 inches of snow was expected before the current storm subsided.

Winter storms warnings were issued for New Jersey, New England and eastern New York and a heavy snow watch for western New York.

A whiff of warm air moving through the northwestern plains produced snow in parts of the north central continent. Temperatures were in the 40s in many places in Montana, Wyoming and Idaho.

Snow showers lingered along the western shore of Lake Michigan, and below zero temperatures were reported at spots in Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan.

Rain showers were scattered over the northern Pacific coast and the northern Rockies.

Generally fair weather prevailed in the central and southern Rockies and from the western Great Lakes to Texas.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 15 at Pellston, Mich., to 65 at Key West, Fla.

Some Trucks Roll Again After Shutdown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Truckers were still "parked-in" at least three Ohio truck stops early this morning as rigs began to dot the state's major highways.

A driver at a Franklin, Ohio rest area said several hundred haulers would remain shutdown indefinitely in the southwestern Ohio lot until speed limits were raised and the price of diesel fuel reduced.

Meanwhile, most drivers who were idle for the past four days supporting the shutdown were reported to have left truck stops by the scheduled end of the protests at midnight Sunday.

But a survey of Ohio Highway Patrol posts around the state showed truck traffic was "normal to light" for a Sunday night and not much of an increase over the past four days.

Truckers at the Junction Truck Stop in Strasburg, Ohio in Tuscarawas County just off Interstate 77 continued to flag down moving trucks, the patrol said.

A dispatcher at the New Philadelphia post said, "It looks like it's starting all over again." There was no violence reported.

At Coal Grove along Ohio's major southern border route, a patrol official said drivers were "still pulling them over." A guard at the Plaza 52 truck stop in Lawrence County said rigs were still "parked" there.

Trucker Carl Bray at the Franklin truck stop said drivers would stay indefinitely until their protest cries are answered.

Bray said a meeting was set for Tuesday night for truckers, and invited public officials, the governor and trucking firm officials.

As late as Sunday night, Bray said,

"We've got this thing under control. There isn't a thing running between here and Washington, D.C."

Around Ohio, highway officials reported late Sunday normal to light truck traffic in the Toledo area; Mansfield along I-71 was normal; in southwestern Ohio, I-75 and I-71 were reported very light; the Ohio Turnpike, normal, and I-70 near Cambridge "starting to pick up."

Most protest leaders at Ohio's focal point of the shutdown, the Shenandoah truck stop near Cambridge, drove away from the area by late Sunday.

"It's just about lost all its steam," said Mike Saunders, one of the leaders who spent the past 10 days at the stop. "We thought all the company drivers would stick with the independents on this, but they didn't."

"It was a shame. We could've done so much," he said.

Saunders promised a longer shutdown in mid-January if the federal government doesn't relax current energy-related restrictions.

One major truck stop in West Virginia remained shut down today as maverick truckers continued a boycott of the open road in protest to rising fuel oil prices and reduced speed limits.

The three-day nationwide protest ended Saturday at most other locations and the majority of the truck stops on Interstate highways through the Mountain State reported they were doing business as usual today.

But the Charleston West truck stop along I-64 at Winfield was shut down again Sunday afternoon when tractor-trailer rigs blocked fuel pumps.

Employees at the truck stop said there were an estimated 200 trucks parked around the diesel pumps this morning. The drivers were standing around quietly, talking and drinking coffee.

The drivers reportedly told employees of the truck stop they would stay there until Tuesday.

No reason was given why the boycott was renewed Sunday.

At the Windmill Truck Stop on I-70 at Wheeling, a Bridgeport, Ohio, trucker said fellow drivers had decided to go back to work Monday and give officials in Washington a month to take some positive action on the truckers' requests.

Ed Venesky, an eight-year veteran of trucking, said more than 100 truckers he had talked to along I-70 were willing to wait until Jan. 15 for some action. He said if nothing happened by then "we'll be back out and we'll go for broke."

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were higher in early trading after the opening was delayed an hour because of a winter storm in the New York area.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was ahead nearly a point, and advancing issues moderately led decliners on the New York Stock Exchange.

Volume leader on the Big Board was Dorsey Corp., unchanged at 4, followed by Western Union, unchanged at 10 1/2, and General Motors, up 3/4 at 48 1/4. AT&T rose 1/4 to 48 1/4 and Schering-Plough Corp. fell 1/4 to 66 1/4.

The stock market rallied Friday in heavy trading after a member of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's delegation said that there was a 50-50 change that the oil embargo would end by January.

The Dow industrial average gained 15.22 points to close the week at 815.62 as nearly twice as many issues advanced as declined in trading that topped 20 million shares on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Friday rally came after three days of heavy declines in the market, in which the Dow average had fallen more than 50 points.

Vandals Throw Eggs

Vandals splattered the front door and windows of Dr. William Rickey's office, 1250 N. Court St., with eggs early Sunday Morning.

People's Bicentennial Commission climbed aboard the ship and unfurled a banner reading "Impeach Nixon." A member of the group, wearing a huge mask resembling President Nixon's face, circled the brig in a rowboat and waved his hands high in Nixon's familiar "V" style.

That group also tarred and feathered a dummy of Nixon and hanged him in effigy.

Members of the Disabled American Veterans, dressed as Indians, then boarded the vessel being used in the demonstrations, a replica of the British brig Beaver. They threw chests of maple leaves overboard.

Genuine Indians, however, members of the Boston Indian Council, complained about the fakes.

Meanwhile, a boat packed with members of the Committee for Individual Liberty, a conservative group, quietly floated around the Beaver.

Boston Police Deputy Supt. Charles Barry estimated the number of spectators at 20,000 and termed it a "happy crowd," despite the blustery, freezing afternoon.

The noisiest demonstration came from the People's Bicentennial Commission, which held a town meeting in historic Faneuil Hall, and then marched several thousand strong to the waterfront.

Katherine Kane, who heads Boston 200, the official group heading up bicentennial events, said she was encouraged by the "fantastic response" from the citizenry. She hailed the diversity of opinions as exemplifying the spirit of the Revolution.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were higher in early trading after the opening was delayed an hour because of a winter storm in the New York area.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was ahead nearly a point, and advancing issues moderately led decliners on the New York Stock Exchange.

Volume leader on the Big Board was Dorsey Corp., unchanged at 4, followed by Western Union, unchanged at 10%, and General Motors, up 3/4 at 48 1/4. AT&T rose 1/4 to 48 1/4 and Schering-Plough Corp. fell 1/4 to 66 1/4.

The stock market rallied Friday in heavy trading after a member of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's delegation said that there was a 50-50 change that the oil embargo would end by January.

The Dow industrial average gained 15.22 points to close the week at 815.62 as nearly twice as many issues advanced as declined in trading that topped 20 million shares on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Friday rally came after three days of heavy declines in the market, in which the Dow average had fallen more than 50 points.

CIRCLEVILLE LAMP PLANT

Dear Friends:

Citing the need in the mid 1940's to meet customer demand for fluorescent lamp lighting up to twice the length of the then standard four foot length, General Electric Lamp Division officials visited Circleville during the 1947 Pumpkin Show to test the residents' readiness and acceptance of Circleville as a possible home for a new fluorescent lamp manufacturing plant.

People in great numbers commented very favorably to the idea and the decision to locate a lamp plant in Circleville was made. This decision has never been regretted.

After experiencing this wonderful acceptance, the outstanding performance of employees coupled with increased demand for our lamp products caused our plant to double in size in 1958 and to triple in size in 1968. We now have twelve acres under roof on a sixty-seven acre site and we employ over 1200 people.

The continual procession of new fluorescent products and the transfer of existing products to our facility have made us the largest fluorescent lamp plant in the world.

We make fluorescent lamps of every size, length, shape, and up to nineteen different colors. Many of our fluorescent products, including circline, are made by General Electric here only, and some of our lamps are shipped world-wide.

For the opportunity to grow and prosper as we have done, the Staff and employees of Circleville Lamp Plant sincerely thank you. We enthusiastically look forward to the next twenty five wonderful years of operation and employment for many people in this area.

As an added personal note, in closing, my wife and I are thankful to you for all of your helpfulness and understanding over the years. We have found Circleville to be the best place we have ever been to live and to raise our family. It has been a real joy to work with you in and outside the plant. You are among the finest people we have ever met, and we are both thankful and proud to be a part of your community.

Lifestyle Change . .

There are a number of unanswered questions in the energy situation, but one of the most intriguing is what Americans will do with their enforced stay-at-home time—assuming the use of private vehicles may be limited. It is a question directly opposite those the family traditionally poses: where would we like to drive this weekend or where should we spend our vacation next summer?

“Going,” under the restrictions already here, just isn’t going to be all that popular. Nor is the traveling situation helped at all by slower bus schedules, reduced air flights and passenger jams at both. Economists already are trying to predict what it will mean if millions of Americans begin spending more time around the home.

At first many will welcome the opportunity to reacquaint themselves with the family and neighbors. But before long they will be looking for something to do. “Doing” is the thing Americans do best after “going.”

Within months a good part of the 20 per cent of the gross national product which now goes for vehicles and highways in one way or another will be channeled into other directions. If some of it is saved it could provide a badly needed shot in the arm for the housing industry. If some of it is spent on recreational or home improvement activities, the boom in those industries could be dramatic.

Watching where the pendulum swings in such a major change in the economy will become a preoccupation with many individuals whose industries and livelihoods may depend upon a new collective judgment.

NEW YORK—Get out that old time clock once more and turn it back to December 17, 1903. Adjust the gizzmo, get the sound right, and there’s your picture — all they way from Kitty Hawk, N.C.

Orville wrote something about it in his diary, actually:

“ . . . On slipping the rope, the machine started off increasing in speed to probably 7 or 8 miles. The machine lifted from the truck just as it was entering on the fourth rail. Mr. (John T.) Daniels took a picture just as it left the tracks.

“I found the control of the front rudder quite difficult on account of its being balanced too near the center and thus had a tendency to turn itself when started so that the rudder was turned too far on one side and then too far on the other. As a result, the machine would rise suddenly to about 10 ft. and then as suddenly, on turning the rudder, dart for the ground.

“A sudden dart when about 100 feet from the end of the tracks ended the flight. Time about 12 seconds (not known exactly as watch was not promptly stopped). The lever for throwing off the engine was broken, and the skid under the rudder cracked.

“After repairs, at 20 min. after 11 o’clock Will made the second trial. The course was about like mine, up and down but a little longer over the ground, though about the same in time. Dist. not measured but about 175 ft.

“With the aid of the station men present, we picked the machine up and carried it back to the starting ways. At about 20 minutes till 12 o’clock I made the third trial. When out about the same distance as Will’s, I met with a strong gust from the left which raised the left wing and sidled the machine off to the right in a lively manner.

“ . . . At just 12 o’clock Will started on the fourth and last trip. The machine started off with its ups and downs as it had before, but by the time he had gone over three or four hundred feet he had it under much better control, and was traveling at fairly even course. It proceeded in this manner till it reached a small hummock out about 800 feet from the starting ways, when it began its pitching again and suddenly darted to the ground.

“ . . . We set the machine down a few feet west of the building, and while standing about discussing the last flight, a sudden gust of wind struck the machine and started to turn it over. All rushed to stop it. Will, who was near one end ran to the front, but too late to do any good. Mr. Daniels and myself seized spars at the rear, but to no purpose. The machine gradually turned over on us. Mr. Daniels, having had no experience in handling a machine of this kind, hung on to it from the inside and as a result was knocked down and turned over and over with it as it went.”

It was a day that changed the history of the world, but none of the enthrallment was particularly visible in the Western Union telegram which Orville Wright sent to his father, Bishop Milton Wright, in Dayton, Ohio. it read:

“Success Four flights Thursday morning all against twenty-one mile wind Started from level with engine power alone Average speed through air thirty-one miles Longest 57 seconds Inform press Home Christmas.”

Lap dissolve, as we used to say when Hollywood made movies:

The airplane was to grow up to a point where it would carry millions and millions of passengers and mountains of freight each year; bomb and flatten many of the great capitals of the world; end the greatest war in history by dropping just two bombs on

NEW YORK (AP) — The art of double-talk reaches its flower in marital conversation.

Double-talk is saying one thing while actually thinking something else. It is the salve of civilization and, of course, without double-talk marriage would be unendurable. If married people started speaking only the truth to each other one fine morning, by nightfall half of them would be divorced — or dead in cold blood.

Here are a few typical examples of marital double-talk. The quoted remark of the speaker is followed by what he really was thinking.

“You look like you had a good sleep last night, dear.” — God, why do all women look so homely in the morning? They all come unglued overnight.

“Why don’t you shave before going to bed sometime, darling, instead of after you get up? You’d be able to start to work sooner.” — And I’d feel less like I was sleeping with a warthog all the time.

“You look pretty peaked, Harry.” — Did you have a four-Martini lunch and spend the rest of the afternoon chasing your secretary around your desk?

“You look a little weary yourself, Martha.” — Taking catnaps on a sofa all day long must be real tiring to a woman.

“There is no reason at all for you to worry about how your new dentures look. They look simply fine.” — It’s their sound effects that drive me crazy.

“Your complexion is even prettier now, Grace, than it was the day I led you to the altar.” — But why did you have to have two $1,500 face lifts to get the job done?

“It was very thoughtful for you to suggest going to a restaurant tonight, Harry. I did feel like eating out.” — And now, my little cheapskate hubby, I’m going to wreck your evening by ordering the $10 steak instead of the $4.50 dinner special.

“When I ask you what you want for Christmas, Harriet, please don’t tell me you really don’t want anything special.” — That means I always have to buy you something that leaves me in hock until April.

“There must be 1,001 ways for a marriage to turn sour, dear, but I’m convinced that there is only one small thing that made our marriage go wrong.” — It’s you, fathead.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have been put on an anti-gout diet because my blood showed high uric acid.

Is it possible to have gout without any symptoms?

Mr. F. G., Tex.

Dear Mr. G.:

As more and more information accumulates about gout it becomes apparent that this disease of metabolism which is far more complex than previously suspected.

At one time, the public always conceived the person with gout as an overweight, over-indulged tycoon sitting with his foot elevated and his big toe swathed in bandages.

This portrait is false. As a matter of fact, a gouty disorder has many facets and occurs in people of all social and economic levels.

Gout is a disturbance of the manufacture, accumulation and the secretion of uric acid in the body. A gouty tendency may exist in a great many people without any gross evidence of disease. It may be completely symptomless until an acute episode occurs.

During a routine blood study the uric acid level may be high. When this is found, even in the absence of any symptoms, treatment can be started to abort the onset of painful joints in the body.

Many cases of early gout can be controlled by diet alone. Certain foods, including kidney, liver, sweetbreads, anchovies, sardines, and gravy extracts should be avoided. These foods are high in purine from which uric acid is produced.

I get unbearable pain when I come down in an airplane. Can the cause for this be traced?

Mr. H. N., Calif.

Dear Mr. N.:

The Eustachian tube, which runs from the back of the nose to the middle ear, normally is a clear passageway for the free flow of air. Air that enters into the outer ear balances the pressure on both sides of the eardrum.

When air pressure changes are increased, as during a flight, this balance is changed and pain may result.

People who have had previous infections of the eardrums are more susceptible because scar tissue may interfere with the elasticity of the ear drum.

Infections of the nose, sinusitis, pharyngitis, allergies, and, in children, large adenoids, may obstruct the opening to the Eustachian tube and cause pain during a flight.

Careful examination can usually pinpoint the reason for the problem you describe.

Anne, Mark Back Home

LONDON (AP) — Smiling and lunched, Princess Anne and Capt. Mark Phillips returned today from a Latin American honeymoon to a cold and troubled Britain.

“It certainly looks jolly cold outside,” said the coatless cavalry captain to his royal wife as their commercial flight from Antigua landed at Heathrow Airport.

The only daughter of Queen Elizabeth II donned a light blue coat against the early-morning 36-degree cold.

A small group of shivering airline workers greeted the pair. Stewardess Patricia Byford said they had been “absolutely charming” in the air. She reported that they dined on caviar, steak and cheese, and chatted, napped and read.

The Phillipses were speedily introduced to the problems that have developed in Britain since their wedding Nov. 14. Their car crawled bumper to bumper all the way to town among commuters forced onto the highways because of a slowdown by train engineers. And Buckingham Palace’s corridors were blacked out and the thermostats lowered 10 per cent because of the power crisis resulting from a slowdown by coal miners.

Wallace Daughter Married Saturday

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace gave away in marriage his daughter, Peggy Sue, to Mark Kennedy, 21, of Greenville, whom she met on a blind date.

An enormous pink and white tent was set up at the executive mansion Saturday for the 8,000 guests invited to attend the wedding reception.

The bride, 23, was escorted down the aisle at St. James Methodist Church by her brother, George Jr. The governor, who remains paralyzed in both legs as a result to a 1972 assassination attempt, was seated in his wheelchair near the altar.

Kennedy graduated recently from Auburn University, where he majored in speech communications and pre-law.

The state highway department's proposal to take Route 23 off Court St. and loop it around the western edge of the city was back unexpectedly among the foremost community issues.

The bypass controversy again began to take on steam with the announcement that City Council would consider another bypass ordinance at its next regular meeting.

With reports in from only about half of the participating guild units contributions in the drive to outfit a new wing at Berger Hospital had already climbed past the $17,000 mark.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Henry Jr. of 324 E. Ohio St. were the parents of Circleville's first baby of December, a son born 8:27 a.m. December 1 in Berger Hospital.

Circleville High School Band Mothers Organization sponsored a dance in Memorial Hall. A total of 130 band members and guests were present at the affair, which marked the closing of the band season.

Round and square dancing, to the music of Dusty Rhoads and his orchestra, was the feature of the evening.

Don Skinner and George Troutman were presented with most valuable player awards at the Circleville High School football banquet. It was the first time in the eight-year history of the Booster Club that two players were selected to share the award.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have been put on an anti-gout diet because my blood showed high uric acid.

Is it possible to have gout without any symptoms?

Mr. F. G., Tex.

Dear Mr. G.:

As more and more information accumulates about gout it becomes apparent that this disease of metabolism which is far more complex than previously suspected.

At one time, the public always conceived the person with gout as an overweight, over-indulged tycoon sitting with his foot elevated and his big toe swathed in bandages.

This portrait is false. As a matter of fact, a gouty disorder has many facets and occurs in people of all social and economic levels.

Gout is a disturbance of the manufacture, accumulation and the secretion of uric acid in the body. A gouty tendency may exist in a great many people without any gross evidence of disease. It may be completely symptomless until an acute episode occurs.

During a routine blood study the uric acid level may be high. When this is found, even in the absence of any symptoms, treatment can be started to abort the onset of painful joints in the body.

Many cases of early gout can be controlled by diet alone. Certain foods, including kidney, liver, sweetbreads, anchovies, sardines, and gravy extracts should be avoided. These foods are high in purine from which uric acid is produced.

I get unbearable pain when I come down in an airplane. Can the cause for this be traced?

Mr. H. N., Calif.

Dear Mr. N.:

The Eustachian tube, which runs from the back of the nose to the middle ear, normally is a clear passageway for the free flow of air. Air that enters into the outer ear balances the pressure on both sides of the eardrum.

When air pressure changes are increased, as during a flight, this balance is changed and pain may result.

People who have had previous infections of the eardrums are more susceptible because scar tissue may interfere with the elasticity of the ear drum.

Infections of the nose, sinusitis, pharyngitis, allergies, and, in children, large adenoids, may obstruct the opening to the Eustachian tube and cause pain during a flight.

Careful examination can usually pinpoint the reason for the problem you describe.

Gasoline Shortage Hits Road 'Oasis'

SALEM, Ill. (AP) — About a tankful of gasoline south of Chicago is an oasis in the desert of Interstate 57. The signs say: “Salem, gas-food-lodging, next right.”

But on Sunday, the cluster of service stations, diners and a motel around the interchange might as well have been a mirage.

Despite President Nixon's plea for Sunday closings of gas stations, two of the three service stations were open. But they were doing so little business they were losing money — even with gas selling for 51.9 cents a gallon.

At the Coffa Cupee Cafe, waitresses Kay Spencer and Carolyn Gray tended eight customers scattered among the 58 seats. Normally the place would be packed, they said.

“Seventy-five per cent of our business is off the interstate,” Mrs. Gray said. “You can see what it is doing.”

“We used to be open 24 hours, seven days a week,” Mrs. Spencer said. “Now we close every night at 10 except for Fridays and Saturdays. The boss has had to let half the help go, and he's cut the inventory by half.”

Leon Sullen, 26, running the Standard station next door, said: “The interstate's dead.”

Sullen checked his sales for the morning and found he had sold about 400 gallons by midday. He doubted he would pump 800 more that day.

Before Sunday closings, he pumped

Wallace Daughter Married Saturday

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace gave away in marriage his daughter, Peggy Sue, to Mark Kennedy, 21, of Greenville, whom she met on a blind date.

An enormous pink and white tent was set up at the executive mansion Saturday for the 8,000 guests invited to attend the wedding reception.

The bride, 23, was escorted down the aisle at St. James Methodist Church by her brother, George Jr. The governor, who remains paralyzed in both legs as a result to a 1972 assassination attempt, was seated in his wheelchair near the altar.

Kennedy graduated recently from Auburn University, where he majored in speech communications and pre-law.

about 3,500 gallons. Two weeks ago, the first Sunday after the President made his request, the station dispensed 400 gallons.

Next door is a Texaco station. George Brown, 54, has been pumping gas for 17 years but has closed his station on Sundays.

“This Sunday closing is really doing what they want it to do,” he said. “It cut our business right half in two. It will save millions of gallons of fuel. I'm in favor of closing.”

Codie D. Guthrie, manager of the Holiday Inn, said Thanksgiving and Christmas bookings, plus steady business from salesmen, have helped him ride out the ripples of the fuel crisis. But he's noticed drop-ins and tourists aren't showing up.

“I feel that it will affect business,” he said. “But I won't be able to tell until after the holiday.”

Anne, Mark Back Home

LONDON (AP) — Smiling and untanned, Princess Anne and Capt. Mark Phillips returned today from a Latin American honeymoon to a cold and troubled Britain.

“It certainly looks jolly cold outside,” said the coatless cavalry captain to his royal wife as their commercial flight from Antigua landed at Heathrow Airport.

The only daughter of Queen Elizabeth II donned a light blue coat against the early-morning 36-degree cold.

A small group of shivering airline workers greeted the pair. Stewardess Patricia Byford said they had been “absolutely charming” in the air. She reported that they dined on caviar, steak and cheese, and chatted, napped and read.

The Phillipses were speedily introduced to the problems that have developed in Britain since their wedding Nov. 14. Their car crawled bumper to bumper all the way to town among commuters forced onto the highways because of a slowdown by train engineers. And Buckingham Palace's corridors were blacked out and the thermostats lowered 10 per cent because of the power crisis resulting from a slowdown by coal miners.

Sister Has Plenty To Hide

DEAR ABBY: This problem is my sister's. She is a very pretty 45-year-old widow with nine kids. She lives in Naples, Italy. I showed her picture to a widower who lives in Jersey, and he said he wanted to write to her. (My sister was born in the U.S.A. and speaks both English and Italian.) Well, to make a long story short, they corresponded, and he sent her a ticket to visit him here. It was love at first sight. The problem is, my sister told him she had only two kids!

He is going to Naples to marry my sister, and he will surely find out how many kids she has. What do you think he will do when he finds out the truth? My sister is afraid to tell him. Should I? This is a mess I can't see my way out of.

ASISTER

DEAR SISTER: Tell your sister if she doesn't tell him how many children she has, YOU will, because you feel responsible for having brought them together. And if you helped your sister "hide" seven kids, shame on you.

DEAR ABBY: What's happened to people? Nobody in business gives anything away any more. At Christmas time, in order to show that they appreciated your business, the milkman used to give you a pretty kitchen calendar with the dairy's name on it. The cleaning man would give you a pretty note pad with a pencil to keep by your telephone. (Okay, so it had their telephone number on it.) My beauty parlor used to give me a small bottle of shampoo or perfume, and my grocer used to give my children candy.

Now, nobody you patronize gives you anything. In fact, THEY expect you to give them something. Why?

DEAR OLD TIMER: It's one of the penalties of "prosperity." Some others are poor service, inferior quality, and shortages.

DEAR ABBY: My wife has three sisters and two brothers who got together and gave their parents a Christmas gift—a three-month vacation in sunny Florida, at OUR home. (Without even consulting us, I might add.)

My inlaws just called from Montana to give us the good news that the "other children" presented them with two round tickets to Gainesville, good for a three-month stay, and they said that WE would be delighted to have them as our house guests.

Abby, her parents are not easy to get

Steel Output High Autos Slower

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Industry Week magazine says demand for steel is slowing in the auto industry, but this is "the only consumer group easing its demand" as production continues at a high level.

The business weekly said the auto industry is reducing its "take" of "cold rolled steel sheets to match reduced needs" during the switchover to production of smaller cars.

While demand from the automakers is slowing, IW said demand in other areas, particularly in construction, is taking up the slack.

The energy crisis is generating demand for some steel products—those related to oil exploration, drilling and refining, IW reported.

"Only a few months ago, there was no great call for oil country tubular goods," the magazine said. "But a sharp increase was registered in October, when U.S. mill shipments of these products totaled 217,520 net tons, a 32 per cent increase over September, which had been the highest month this year."

Also related to the energy situation, IW said, "is an extremely strong demand that has fully booked steel mill output of railroad products, particularly those going into construction of hopper cars for hauling coal."

"Orders for railroad freight cars are better than double last year's rate."

IW said mills continue operating at capacity, with weekly production of raw steel running above the 2.9 million ton mark.

Lottery Panel Pushes Integrity

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The five members of the State Lottery Commission have promised to conduct all meetings publicly to help assure integrity in Ohio's newest venture into legalized gambling.

David F. Leahy of Cleveland, the chairman, said "We have to keep everything out in the open if we expect the public to respect the integrity of this operation."

Another commission member, Richard S. Rust of Cincinnati, put it this way at the panel's organizational meeting in Columbus: "Faith in this commission and the lottery is the prerequisite to the success of this whole operation."

Columbus newsmen questioned the members after they held their first session—with Gov. John J. Gilligan sitting in—at the governor's mansion, with reporters excluded.

Mrs. Bernice MacKenzie of Canton, another member, called it "a get-acquainted session" and insisted the private meeting was for the purpose of agreeing on a chairman to avoid possible embarrassment.

"We didn't want to come here and have someone turn down the nomination. That just makes common sense," Mrs. MacKenzie told the press at the first formal session in the governor's cabinet room. Leahy was elected without discussion or opposition.

Leahy, a retired executive of Sears, Roebuck & Co., said he and the other members were "starting from scratch" and intended to study lottery operations in the eight other states that have them.

"We're going to pick and choose from the best," he said.

"In a way," he said, "It's like opening a new store. You have to be sure about your personnel, your location, and all the other things that make a successful business."

Leahy said he realizes the commission members are going to be under pressures, not only in the selection of an executive director and a site for state lottery headquarters, but also from consultants and people wanting to sell lottery tickets.

Anyone seeking employment or financial gain from the lottery operation, Leahy said, will be subject to "a thorough review, a presentation, and another review" before a decision is made. All this, he said, will be done out in the open.

The chairman indicated it may be months before the first tickets are sold. "We're not going to be stampeded. . . we're going to have the best lottery in the nation," he said.

Wedding Vows Exchanged In Marshalltown, Iowa

St. Mary's Catholic Church in Marshalltown, Iowa, was the setting for the 1:30 p.m., Dec. 8th, wedding of Miss Patricia Gail Klinefelter and Mr. Jeffrey Phillip Stonerock. Father Ludwig officiated the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Klinefelter, W. The bride selected for her wedding a floor length gown of sheer white nylon with pearl trimmed latticed val lace forming a V-bib on the fitted bodice with a ruffled stand-up collar. Matching lace trimmed the full detachable chapel length train and cuffs of the bishop sleeves. The hemline was marked by a wide flounce. The bride's bouffant veil of illusion fell from a caplet of lace to elbow length.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Jan Roberts, was attired in a light blue princess style dress.

Mr. Stephen Stonerock performed the duties of best man. Ushers were Mr. Bill Mooar and Mr. Daniel Brown.

A reception in the social rooms of the church immediately followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Marvin Klinefelter, Mrs. C. H. Phillips, Mrs. Lorrie Klinefelter and Mrs. Cheryl Klinefelter. Host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips.

Great Seal Park Funds OKayed

State Representative Myrl Shoemaker (D-Bourneville) today announced he has been advised by Ohio Natural Resources Director William B. Nye that the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation has approved $347,325 in federal matching funds for the acquisition of property at the proposed Great Seal State Park.

Shoemaker said the state will match the federal funds to purchase 1,232 acres of land for the park for a total of $694,650.

The park project northeast of Chillicothe will eventually encompass some 7,000 acres including 467 acres of federal Camp Sherman land, 1,124 acres from the state's Ross Lake area and about 5,000 privately owned acres.

It will take in virtually the entire Mt. Logan range, from Mt. Logan north to Sugarloaf Mountain, site of the Scioto Society's outdoor historical drama Amphitheater. The range is depicted on the Great Seal of the State of Ohio.

The state began purchasing land for Great Seal State Park earlier this year with the acquisition of 269 acres on the western slope of Sugarloaf Mountain, opposite the outdoor amphitheater.

The federal funds for the park project are available under the Land and Water Conservation Act of 1965.

8 Persons Die In Plane Crash

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An official of a firm requested to carry out repairs on a cargo plane which plowed into a residential area says he notified the aircraft's owners the day before the accident that the work had not been done. Eight persons died in the crash.

Richard J. Sekman, owner of Sekman Aviation repair facilities, said H.B. Robinson, business agent for the firm owning the plane, had arranged for the craft to be kept at Sekman's repair facility at Miami International Airport.

Sekman said a pilot who flew the cargo plane a month ago had ordered extensive maintenance and repairs.

But Sekman said he made it clear to Robinson that because of manpower problems he had been unable to do the work before the plane left the Sekman repair hangar Friday.

Douglas Drifus, an investigator with the National Transportation Safety Board, said efforts to contact Robinson had been unsuccessful and that the FBI was seeking to find him so that he could be interviewed.

The plane, bound for Venezuela with 21,000 pounds of Christmas trees, crashed seconds after take off Saturday night. Among those killed were the three crew members and five residents of the residential section one mile east of the airport.

High Court Nixes Class Action Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today blocked the use of class action suits to collect for damages to the environment.

In a 6 to 3 decision, the court said each party complaining of damages must satisfy federal court rules requiring proof of at least $10,000 in damages in order to file a suit in federal court.

The ruling came in a suit brought by two Vermont couples against the International Paper Co., alleging damages to lakefront property from discharges at a company pulp and paper manufacturing plant.

They had sought to sue on behalf of some 200 other lakefront landowners in addition to themselves.

Writing for the majority, Justice Byron R. White said the suit could not be considered a class action because the other landowners had not satisfied the $10,000 damage requirement.

Justices William J. Brennan Jr., William O. Douglas and Thurgood Marshall dissented, saying that the limitation "is both unwarranted and unwise."

The attempt at a class action suit had been supported by the National Council of Senior Citizens and the Consumer Federation of America which said the case would have an impact on a wide range of citizens suits.

Ford, Solons Discuss Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford presided today at the last in a series of three meetings with congressional leaders on administration legislative proposals for next year.

Joining Ford and three cabinet members at the White House to discuss "human and community affairs" were three senators and five House members, all Republicans.

Ford held similar sessions last week, discussing energy policy and economic matters.

The cabinet members taking part in the latest meeting were Secretary of Transportation Claude Brinegar, Secretary of Labor Peter Brennan and Secretary Caspar Weinberger of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

IRS Says-Again-Tax Forms To Be Easier To Make Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has lifted its ban on the word "spouse" and stopped trying to define income-tax terms for taxpayers.

These are but two of the changes the IRS has made in its package of 1973 federal income tax forms and instructions that soon will be mailed to the nation's 80 million taxpayers.

Most of this year's changes are procedural and, as usual, IRS spokesmen said they should make things simpler at filing time.

For example, taxpayers no longer will have to list the names of organizations they contribute to if they have canceled checks or receipts to prove their gifts. And a list of names and dates for claiming payments to

The Circleville Fire Department was called to the Ralston Purina Company, 901 S. Court St. Saturday at 4:50 p.m. to extinguish a fire causing damages of $1,500.

Flames caused estimated damages to the building of $500 and to the contents of $1,000.

They had sought to sue on behalf of some 200 other lakefront landowners in addition to themselves.

Writing for the majority, Justice Byron R. White said the suit could not be considered a class action because the other landowners had not satisfied the $10,000 damage requirement.

Justices William J. Brennan Jr., William O. Douglas and Thurgood Marshall dissented, saying that the limitation "is both unwarranted and unwise."

The attempt at a class action suit had been supported by the National Council of Senior Citizens and the Consumer Federation of America which said the case would have an impact on a wide range of citizens suits.

Ford, Solons Discuss Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford presided today at the last in a series of three meetings with congressional leaders on administration legislative proposals for next year.

Joining Ford and three cabinet members at the White House to discuss "human and community affairs" were three senators and five House members, all Republicans.

Ford held similar sessions last week, discussing energy policy and economic matters.

The cabinet members taking part in the latest meeting were Secretary of Transportation Claude Brinegar, Secretary of Labor Peter Brennan and Secretary Caspar Weinberger of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

IRS Says-Again-Tax Forms To Be Easier To Make Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has lifted its ban on the word "spouse" and stopped trying to define income-tax terms for taxpayers.

These are but two of the changes the IRS has made in its package of 1973 federal income tax forms and instructions that soon will be mailed to the nation's 80 million taxpayers.

Most of this year's changes are procedural and, as usual, IRS spokesmen said they should make things simpler at filing time.

For example, taxpayers no longer will have to list the names of organizations they contribute to if they have canceled checks or receipts to prove their gifts. And a list of names and dates for claiming payments to doctors, dentists and hospitals no longer is required on the form.

In each case, however, records should be kept in case of an audit.

The ban on the word "spouse" was ordered a year ago by former commissioner Johnnie M. Walters, who did it in a move to try to simplify terms in the instruction book.

Instead of the "spouse," the 1972 instruction book referred to "husband-wife" or "he and she."

"We don't think it's fair to the American taxpayer to have him think that we are talking about a water fountain," Walters said at the time.

But "spouse" is back because it's the easiest term to use, an IRS official now says, and "it gets away from that he or she business in writing instructions."

Also gone from the new instruction book is a short glossary of tax terms introduced a year ago. Some examples: "Widow — a woman whose husband has died. Widower — a man whose wife has died."

Here are some of the other changes:

—A separate schedule for reporting details of dividends and interest income has been eliminated. Instead, the taxpayer must report the total of the payments, keeping records in case of an audit, on form 1040.

—No longer will taxpayers who earn more than $200 each in interest or dividends be barred from using the short form, known as form 1040A.

—Taxpayers may designate $1 of their taxes for financing the 1976 presidential election. And, if they didn't check off the amount last year, they may do so this year.

In case a taxpayer needs help, the IRS has set up for the first time this year a nationwide system of toll-free telephone numbers that taxpayers may call for assistance. The numbers are listed in the instruction books.

Kinder Key Collects $390

Boys and girls from local elementary schools sang carols in various areas from door to door collecting $390 which goes 100 per cent to the Heart Laboratory at Children's Hospital, Columbus.

Assisting locally were Paul Dunkle and Edwin Reynolds with Mary Murphy, Columbus, coordinating the project.

Electric Short Causes Fire At Ralston Purina

The Circleville Fire Department was called to the Ralston Purina Company, 901 S. Court St. Saturday at 4:50 p.m. to extinguish a fire causing damages of $1,500.

The fire was caused by a short in the electrical wiring in the office above a dropped ceiling.

Flames caused estimated damages to the building of $500 and to the contents of $1,000.

Christmas Meeting Held By PCS

The Pickaway County Medical Society held its annual Christmas meeting at Tink's last Wednesday evening. Members of the society, their wives, secretaries and office assistants were honored during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keller of Chillicothe were also honored guests. Keller has been a medical service representative of the Eli Lilly Company of Indianapolis, Ind. for the past 34 years and is retiring at the end of this year.

Dr. Robert G. Smith, president of the society presented Keller with an electronic calculator, on behalf of the society.

A Man's Best Friend

By JIM BISHOP

Nobody calls Jerry the Gyp Jerry the Gyp. They call him "Mr. Smith," which is not his name. He owns a pasta place off Chatham Square in New York and he is an intent and studious little man who sometimes goes to his grandfather's mausoleum in Brooklyn to read detective stories.
Some think this is weird. Jerry says it is quiet and conducive to concentration. Besides, he loved grandpa. The mausoleum has no central heating and the Gyp often reads through the steam of his breath. He maintains two new electric bulbs on the marble slab, the only extravagance in which he has ever indulged.
He is a small, thin, hungry-looking man with eyes like French peas and a nose which aims slightly to the right of wherever he is walking. He won the nose in an argument, talking when he should have been listening.
The Gyp runs a clean place. His meat sauce has meat in it and his bar serves three-quarters of an ounce of booze in a weighted shot glass. His hobby is in buying items which, to the police, are more than warm.
He has, let us say, a sense of honor. If a buddy owes him a buck, Jerry the Gyp will chase him to Madagascar to get it back. If Jerry owes, he makes profound apologies if he forgets to pay on the button. His loves are simple: grandpa, who hasn't worn out the high black lace shoes he wears in the mausoleum, and Tessie.
Tessie is Mrs. Jerry the Gyp or, if you prefer, "Mrs. Smith." She is a size 48 full, with piles of shiny jet hair and rosy cheeks. If she sneezes in public and her bra snaps, three hospital cases are guaranteed. Jer likes her that way.
The Gyp has no police record. He will lend anybody $5 if they bring back six within a week. Or $5,000 to bring back $6,000. He doesn't force his cash on anybody. He makes few friends on the assumption that if an honorable person such as he is working the rackets, then everybody else has got to be a loser.
Nobody, even Tess, makes fun of his reading habits. This includes the caretaker at the big Catholic cemetery, who is into Jerry for $300 and will never pull out. The one dear trusted friend the Gyp had was Tommy, his bartender. They grew up in Cherry Hill, prepared to bleed into each other's wrists at the age of 11.

Jerry never questions Tommy's take when the place closes at 3 a.m. The place is full of waiters from the old country and Tommy lends money at 6 for 5, unknown to the Gyp. Tommy showed them how to box a number and play a horse. So, when times are tough, the bartender tells the Gyp not to worry, he'll work for nothing.
It was the unbreakable friendship. But it broke. Perhaps it was Tessie's fault. She is a born social climber who likes to play Gin in the afternoon with girl friends. It started when she complained to her husband that he had bought her eight hot fur coats, but she found it embarrassing to wear them at the card table.
The other ladies had diamonds. Big ones. Jerry waved her away. But she kept making small razor blade cuts on his skin and he knew he had to find a ring. The Gyp never trusted gems. So he slipped Tommy a C note and ordered him to go out and find a sparkling hunk of glass.
The bartender came back with a five-carat fire that looked like the aurora borealis. Tessie cried. She smothered her husband with kisses.

"It's hot," he said. "You can only wear it in the bathroom with gloves on. Alone."
Tessie wore it everywhere. At the card table, she held her hand up and out until it got numb. The other ladies went green. She even straightened her coiffure backwards, so that the ring was showing. She washed the dishes with it. In time, chips began to fall off. Tessie made scratch marks with a pin.
She went into a towering rage. She called Jerry names he hadn't heard since grandpa passed on. Tommy said not to worry. A buddy had tipped him about an apartment in Yorkville which would be empty over the weekend. The bartender was going to visit the place with a strip of Celluloid.
He returned with a two-carat pear-shaped diamond. Tommy was panting. A cop had chased him firing shots in the air. Jerry the Gyp took the ring and ran to a hockshop. "How much?" he said. The owner examined it. "Twenty-five hundred," he said. The Gyp asked his buddy what he wanted for it.
"Anything," he panted. "Three hundred." "You got it," said Jerry. The friendship remained firm for a week. Then Tommy walked out on Jerry. "Why?" the Gyp roared. Tommy shook his head. "You robbed me," he said . . .

Lawrence Sheriff Now On His Own

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Lawrence County Sheriff James H. Howell plans to operate his department single-handed today after running out of money to pay deputies.

Howell and a dispatcher began working the department alone Sunday after county commissioners refused to increase his budget.

Commission President Lewis Bryant said Howell overspent his budget twice in the past three months and commissioners had no alternative but to reject a request for $900 to keep a full force of deputies on patrol through the end of the year.

Only emergency calls would be answered for the rest of the month, Howell said. The sheriff was the only officer on duty from 5:30 a.m. until midnight Sunday.

He furloughed five deputies over the weekend.

Bryant contended the situation resulted from Howell's "fiscal irresponsibility." Bryant said more deputies were hired than allowed by the commission.

Howell said Sunday the expense of guarding an individual in a hospital charged with first degree murder put him over his budget. "It was an unexpected expense that I have no control over," the sheriff said.

Rev. Billy Graham Talks On Freedom

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaking at his fifth White House worship service, the Rev. Billy Graham said, "We must alter our course if we are going to see many more Christmas seasons as a free people."

Present Sunday were President Nixon and 270 high-ranking guests as Dr. Graham said: "We must reorder our priorities. We must remake the unjust structures that have taken advantage of the powerless and broken the hearts of the poor and the dispossessed."

Rockefeller Mum About Watergate

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he doesn't have the facts to determine whether Watergate has made President Nixon unfit to hold office and that it is up to Congress to decide.

"The degree to which this man should be judged is a delicate thing," he said on NBC's "Meet the Press" Sunday. The question Congress must answer, Rockefeller said, is "was he responsible or was he not, and if he was, was he responsible in such a way as to be disqualified from office?"

Rockefeller is retiring as governor of New York on Tuesday in what many political observers consider the beginning of a bid for the 1976 Republican presidential nomination.

Tigers Whip Wilmington Saturday

BOMBS AWAY—Harold Reed (24) goes high in the air to pick up another two points for the Circleville Tigers against Wilmington Saturday night. Circleville downed the Hurricane 61-44. Kris Kline (40) watches the action along with Ralph Harding (31) and Randy Reeder (35) of Wilmington.

Circleville controlled the basketball game almost from the beginning Saturday as John Lawhorn's Tigers whipped Wilmington 61-44 in South Central Ohio League action.

The Tigers have a 5-1 record with the only loss coming at the hands of Washington C.H. They are 3-1 in the league. Wilmington has a 1-4 record.

The Tigers outshot and outplayed the Hurricane Saturday, shooting a 38 per cent accuracy from the field and 72 per cent from the foul line. They made 24 of 63 field goal attempts and 13 of 18 foul shots. They committed only 12 turnovers in the tilt.

Wilmington took 53 shots from the field making 16 for a 30.2 per cent accuracy rate and 12 of 20 from the charity stripe for a 60 per cent rate. The Hurricane threw the ball away 24 times in the game. They outrebounded the Tigers, 34-26.

Four Tigers hit in twin figures, led by Perry Hoskins' 16 markers on five field goals and six foul shots. Robin Martin scored 14 points, Harold Reed 12 markers and Kris Kline 10.

Rounding out the scoring for Circleville Doug Radabaugh tallied five and Kevin Wood four.

Lawhorn cleared the bench in the last quarter, putting every Tiger in the tilt.

For Wilmington, ten players scored, none with more than eight points. Bruce Hinman tallied the eight. Randy Reeder notched seven, and Jeff Earley six. Four of the players scored four. They were Tim Bennington, Noel Van Pelt, Kippy Collins and Bill Crowe. Robbie Brown tallied three, and Kyle Lundy and Ralph Harding two each.

The Tigers led 12-8 at the end of the first quarter, 35-19 at halftime and 45-27 after three periods.

Circleville hosts Miami Trace next Friday.

PAY ATTENTION—Circleville's Robin Martin pops one from the corner but his teammate, Perry Hoskins, and a pair of Wilmington cagers seem to be more interested in what's happening on the other side of the court. Identifiable Hurricane cagers are Kip Collins (21) and Jeff Early (45).

SUMMARY

LE Wrestlers Split At New Albany Tri Meet

Logan Elm defeated Mohawk 48-21 and lost to New Albany 57-6 in a triangular match held Saturday at New Albany. The host school scored 126 points overall, Logan Elm 54 and Mohawk 24.

Junior 185-pound wrestler Brian Herron pushed his record to 4-0 for the season, pinning his opponent from Mohawk and winning 10-3 in his match with New Albany.

Dave Calton, a freshman 119-pounder, pinned one of his opponents and lost to another, 10-3. LE coach Stan Wilamowski singled out Herron, Calton and Dale Reynolds, a sophomore, as doing outstanding jobs. Although he lost both matches, Wilamowski said that Reynolds "had a near pin but didn't get credit for it from the official which would have given him a win in his second match." And he had the kid from Mohawk on his back for nearly a minute, but let him get up.

In other matches, John Scanlon, 98 pounds, won by forfeit and lost, 6-0. Dennis Redman, 105 pounds, won by forfeit and was pinned. Gary Hall, 112 pounds, won by forfeit and was pinned.

Mark Fouch, 126 pounds, lost 10-5 and won by forfeit. Dave Hulse, 132 pounds, lost 11-6 and was pinned. Wes King, 138 pounds, was pinned twice. Don Maxson, 145 pounds, won by forfeit and lost 8-1.

Wayne Linthicum, 155 pounds, lost 7-0 and was pinned. Mont Woods won by forfeit and was pinned. Tom Shaw, heavyweight, won by forfeit and was pinned.

The next action for the Braves is at Circleville Invitational Saturday.

Nets Humiliate Stars, 120-109

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — "We're not worried about scoring," said New York Nets Coach Kevin Loughery. "All we're interested in doing is getting into the flow of the game and then the points come."

And come they did Sunday night as the Nets humiliated the American Basketball Association's Western Division-leading Utah Stars 120-109.

"Earlier in the year when we were going bad, everybody knew we were going to try to get the ball to (Julius) Erving," said Bill Paulitz, who led the Nets by scoring 26 points. "And we were turning it over before we got it to him."

Elsewhere in the ABA, the San Antonio Spurs defeated the Memphis Tams 85-80, and the Kentucky Colonels beat the San Diego Conquistadors 106-101.

Reserves Take Wind Out Of Hurricane, 81-44

Circleville's reserves blew Wilmington off the court in the first half and then coasted to an 81-44 win to run their season record to 6-0 Saturday night on the Tigers' floor.

The Red and Black cagers roared to a 25-5 lead at the end of the first quarter, held a commanding 53-15 margin at the halftime break and were on top 74-28 at the third period buzzer.

Coach Dennis Stewart went to his bench throughout most of the second half.

George Moore led Circleville with 18 points, Brent Mancini and Mike McCoy each had 17, Warren Yamarick added 12, Biff Bumgarner and Jim Bragg each netted six, Danny Marshall had three while Bruce Hutchinson and Mike Parks tallied one point apiece.

Marvin Jameson had 13, Greg Robinson had nine and Williams seven to pace the Wilmington attack.

The undefeated Tigers will be back in action Friday night when they host the Panthers of Miami Trace.

Phoenix Suns Rip Seattle, 113-109

By FRED ROTHENBERG
Associated Press Sports Writer

There are two ways to defend Charlie Scott — the right way and the wrong way.

Seattle picked the wrong way as the former North Carolina All-American riddled the SuperSonics for 23 points in the first quarter, pacing the Phoenix Suns to a 113-109 victory Sunday night in the National Basketball Association.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Boston trimmed Los Angeles 115-110; Milwaukee routed Portland 121-98 and Kansas City-Omaha edged Detroit 105-104.

Senior Kelly Kemp of Long Beach, Calif., captains the Air Force water polo team.

4 Pro Grid Teams Make Playoffs

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Oakland Raiders are in the National Football League playoffs for the sixth time in seven years. And one reason is they were ready when Denver Coach John Ralston gave it the old college try with a trick play he used when he coached at Stanford University.

And while things went wrong for Denver in its bid for the club's first playoff appearance, everything went right for Buffalo's O.J. Simpson in Buffalo's 34-14 victory over the New York Jets. Simpson became the first man to rush for 2,000 yards in a single season — and he even picked up two yards after the game was over when NFL statisticians rechecked and found an error.

Denver was trailing 14-10 in the third quarter of its game for the American

N. C. State And Kansas Meet Tonight

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — North Carolina State, with a backfield averaging more than five yards each carry, collides with Kansas, led by passing whiz Dave Jaynes, tonight in the Liberty Bowl.

The game, the first of the major bowls, will be televised nationally by ABC beginning at 9 p.m., EST.

North Carolina State, ranked 16th, is 8-3 while the Jayhawks, No. 19, are 7-3-1.

The game promises to be a battle between the Wolfpack's stable of running backs — who gained almost three times that of Kansas — and All-American Jaynes, the fourth leading passer in the country.

Wolfpack running back Willie Burden gained 1,014 yards this season and Stan Fritts and Charley Young netted more than 1,300 between them.

Kansas Coach Don Fambrough expects his defense to get a stern test. "On the basis of what I have seen on film, I'd say they have one of the finest group of running backs we have seen this year," he said.

Tom Seaver of the New York Mets led the National League in strikeouts in 1973 with 251.

Conference West title at Oakland and was without starting quarterback Charley Johnson, who was injured, when Ralston ordered a run off a fake punt-on-four down with the ball on the Denver 48. The play was stopped for no gain, and Oakland moved quickly to its clinching touchdown in a 21-17 victory.

Comings Takes Over At Iowa

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — The University of Iowa hopes a player from its winning past can coach the Hawkeye football team out of a 12-year drought.

Bob Commings, until now a high school coach at Massillon, Ohio, was lineman on Iowa's 1956 Big Ten Conference championship team that beat Oregon State in the Rose Bowl. He arrived in Iowa City Sunday to take the reins of a team that finished the 1973 season 0-11.

Commings, 40, was named to the post Saturday, replacing Frank Lauterbur who was fired Nov. 20 after refusing to make changes in his coaching staff.

"The people I've talked with tell me there is material at Iowa," Commings said.

But why hasn't Iowa had a winning season since the 5-4 finish in 1961? "It may sound corny," Commings said, "but I think the same thing may have happened at Iowa that has happened to America—a lot of people took it for granted."

Commings played for Iowa in 1953, 1956 and 1957. In 1967, he was named the Hawkeyes' most valuable player, won a berth on the All-Big Ten second team and played in the North-South Shrine game.

He was an assistant freshman coach at Iowa in 1958 and 1959 before moving to the high school coaching ranks in his native Ohio.

His first head coaching job was at Struthers, Ohio, where his teams had a 50-16-4 record from 1962 through 1968. Since then he has coached at Washington High School in Massillon, Ohio, where his teams have compiled a record of 44-51.

playoffs on the final day of the regular season — Cincinnati outlasted Houston 27-24 to win the AFC Central; Dallas blasted St. Louis 30-3 to win the National Conference East, and Washington topped Philadelphia 38-20 to earn the NFC wild-card berth.

Next weekend's playoff pairings are:

—Saturday: Washington at Minnesota, the NFC Central Division winner that trounced the New York Giants 31-7 Sunday, and Pittsburgh, the AFC wildcard team that beat San Francisco 37-14 Saturday, at Oakland.

—Sunday: Cincinnati at Miami, the defending Super Bowl champion and AFC East winner that blanked Detroit 31-0 Saturday, and Los Angeles, NFC West king and 30-17 winner over Cleveland Sunday, at Dallas.

In other final-day action, Atlanta edged New Orleans 14-10; Kansas City trounced San Diego 33-6; Baltimore nipped New England 18-13, and Green Bay downed Chicago 21-0.

Oakland's victory sets up a playoff rematch against Pittsburgh. The Steelers beat the Raiders 9-7 in 1972 postseason play when Franco Harris grabbed a deflected pass and ran for a touchdown in the closing seconds.

Bills 34-Jets 14

"It's unbelievable isn't it," said Simpson after smashing Jim Brown's season rushing record of 1,863 yards. The two yards found in the recheck gave Simpson 200 on 34 attempts, making him the first man to gain at least 200 yards three times in one season in NFL history, and boosted his total to 2,003.

Simpson, ran 13 yards for a touchdown, broke Brown's record midway through the first quarter, and then broke the 2,000-yard barrier with a seven-yard run with 5:56 left in the game. Joe Namath passed for both New York touchdowns.

Bengals 27, Houston 24

Cincinnati built a 27-10 lead with Ken Anderson throwing three touchdown passes, including 77 and 67-yard hookups with Isaac Curtis, and then withstood a late Houston rally.

Cowboys 30, Cardinals 3

"We're still basically a running team," said Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach who did a lot to change that image by passing for 256 yards and three touchdowns against St. Louis.

Rams 30, Browns 17

Two Rams set team records and

John Hadl passed for two touchdowns against Cleveland, Los Angeles Coach Chuck Knox had other things on his mind — "Right now, tonight, tomorrow and the rest of the week we'll be thinking about Dallas."

The club record setters were kicker David Ray, with three field goals and three conversions for a season total of 130 points, and Lawrence McCutcheon, who ran for 83 yards for a total of 1,097. The 12 victories, against two losses, was also a Rams' record.

Redskins 38, Eagles 20

"We just weren't getting execution before (Sunday)," said Washington running back Larry Brown after gaining a total of 255 yards against Philadelphia and catching three of Billy Kilmer's four touchdown passes. "We got it today."

Vikings 31, Giants 7

Fran Tarkenton's clutch passing and two interceptions, which set up touchdowns, keyed the victory for Minnesota, as the Vikings tied a club best with a 12-2 record.

Falcons-Saints

Atlanta, which had beaten New Orleans 62-7 in the season opener, got by the Saints this time on Eddie Ray's two one-yard touchdown runs.

Chiefs 33, Chargers 6

Ed Podolak, Jeff Kinney and Wendell Hayes scored touchdowns on short runs and Jan Stenerud kicked four field goals in Kansas City's romp past San Diego.

Colts 18, Patriots 13

Baltimore's Marty Domres and New England's Jim Plunkett each passed for two touchdowns in a driving snow, and Lydell Mitchell rushed for 142 yards on 34 carries for a Baltimore club season record of 963.

Packers 21, Bears 0

Green Bay's Jerry Tagge threw his first two touchdowns passes as a pro and John Brockington rushed for 142 yards against the punchless Bears.

Steelers 37, 49ers 14

John Rower scored one Pittsburgh touchdown with a 71-yard run after intercepting a John Brodie pass and Terry Bradshaw accounted for another with a 50-yard toss. Brodie saw action for the last time with the 49ers, having announced his retirement.

Dolphins 31, Lions 0

Bob Griese hit Paul Warfield with four touchdown passes in the first half, causing Detroit coach Don McCafferty to quip: "I was trying to get the officials to call the game at the half, but they told me they couldn't."

Cleveland Crusaders Tie Houston, 2-2

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's Ted Taylor slammed in a shot with just over two minutes left in the game Sunday night to tie the score and the Houston Aeros and Cleveland Crusaders had to settle for a 2-2 deadlock after 10 minutes of scoreless overtime in World Hockey Association action.

It was a battle of goalies between Garry Cheevers, Cleveland's all-star, and Houston's Ron Grahame.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Joseph Ferguson told a testimonial dinner in his honor Friday night that he will retire when he finishes his current term.

But the announcement came hard for the 81-year-old veteran of 50 years in public service.

"As far as I know now," he said, "I'm going to retire."

The official announcement is to be made Monday, paying the way for his son, Thomas L. Ferguson, 45, now chief deputy in Ferguson's office, to seek the Democratic nomination.

More than 1,000 persons attended the testimonial at the state fairgrounds. Tickets sold for $25 and $100 or $1,000 a table.

Receipts are expected to finance the campaign of Ferguson's son, who was an unsuccessful candidate for treasure in 1962 and for auditor in 1966.

The elder Ferguson said he expected to devote his retirement years to "helping the Democratic ticket." He predicted either Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., or Gov. John Gilligan would be the Democratic nominee for President in 1976.

Ferguson is a long-time friend of the former vice president, who was scheduled to be the principal speaker at the dinner but could not be because of Senate action.

Humphrey, however, taped a tribute to Ferguson played back during the evening.

"He's the very symbol of integrity at the time this nation cries out for decency in government," Humphrey said.

State Democratic leaders including Gilligan also made remarks. The tribute began at 7:30 and ended around 10:40.

Ferguson has served five terms as auditor and one term has state treasurer. He also served many years as a state employee, beginning as a state Industrial Commission employee in 1914.

"I've had a long career I enjoyed," he said. "I've always tried to do the best I can."

Cambodian Reds Overrun Position

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Khmer Rouge insurgents today drove government forces from a position 10 miles from here in the second day of attacks along the capital's southeastern defenses, the Cambodian command said.

A military source said many Cambodian soldiers were missing after government forces abandoned Kien Svay and fled 200 yards north to the Mekong River. Survivors were rescued from there by navy gunboats.

The command reported five other insurgent attacks within 20 miles of Phnom Penh along Highway 1, the Saigon-Phnom Penh highway that runs parallel to the Mekong. The government said the insurgents were probing for weaknesses in the capital's defenses.

Military sources said 30 government troops have been killed and 62 wounded, and a number of others have been reported missing in skirmishes along the road in the past week.

Observers say the fighting indicates insurgents are preparing for a dry-season offensive. They say the Khmer Rouge would like to drive all government forces from the highway so they could ambush shipping along the river without interference.

Other fighting was reported 13 miles north of Phnom Penh on Highway 5, the road to the rice fields in northwest Cambodia; along Highway 4 to the sea, and at Kampot, on the coast 85 miles southwest of Phnom Penh.

In Saigon, the United States asked the International Commission of Control and Supervision to investigate a Communist attack Saturday on an unarmed helicopter in which an American officer and a South Vietnamese crew member were killed.

It was the first American protest to the four-nation commission since it was established by the January cease-fire.

The U.S. note charged that Capt. Richard Morgan Rees, 32, of Kent, Ohio, was "gunned down in cold blood" by Communist soldiers as he stood with his arms raised to show he was unarmed. Rees and three other Americans stationed in Thailand were investigating the crash of a U.S. helicopter seven years ago to determine if the remains of any Americans were at the site of the crash.

Farm Profits To Be 2nd Best Ever

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the government's top agricultural analysts said today that 1974 net farm income might vary as much as $3 billion simply because of the weather but that profits still will be second largest on record.

C. Kyle Randall, chairman of the Outlook and Situation board in the Agriculture Department, said a recent estimate of 1974 net farm income was representative of "more than just excessive bureaucratic caution."

The department earlier this month predicted farmers next year would net between $20 billion and $23 billion, second only to an estimated record income in 1973 of more than $25 billion.

Randall's comments were in a speech prepared for the USDA's annual National Agricultural Outlook Conference which runs through Wednesday.

"If growing and harvesting conditions are adverse, 1974 crop output would be reduced and farm prices would likely exceed 1973 levels," Randall said.

"In the face of strong demand, net farm income would fall only about $2 billion. Conversely, good growing conditions and larger crops would place pressure on prices and farm income could drop about $5 billion in 1974," he said.

Randall said he also made the projections on an assumption that farmers will have enough fuel, fertilizer and other input materials to increase production next year.

Given enough of those ingredients, farmers could produce record crops of wheat and livestock feed grains next year, Randall said.

Man To Recieve Widow's Benefits

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A three-judge federal court has ruled that a widower can collect widow's benefits under Social Security.

The court said Friday that the Social Security Act discriminated against Stephen Weisenfeld when it denied him "mother's insurance benefits" after his wife, who was the family breadwinner, died in childbirth on June 5, 1972.

Weisenfeld's wife, Paula, was a teacher, and he was continuing college studies.

President Lights Christmas Tree

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon lit a single star at the top of the national Christmas tree Friday and said the spirit of Christmas "is not measured by the number of lights on a tree."

"The spirit of Christmas is measured by the love that each of us has in his heart," he told a crowd of thousands who had gathered for the Christmas tree lighting at the capital's annual Pageant of Peace ceremony.

Before he pushed the button that illuminated the star at the top of the 40-foot Colorado blue spruce, the President called attention to the energy crisis that dimmed the usual bright display.

Train Derails

No One Injured

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—A Penn Central Railroad engine and one car of a train derailed here Saturday but was restored to service a short time later without injury to the crew, a Penn Central spokesman said.

East Liverpool police said they were investigating a report that dissident truckers, part of the nationwide work stoppage campaign, interfered with progress of a crane sent to lift the equipment back onto the tracks.

The sides of a section of Ohio 39 which runs through this town were jammed with trucks which one observer estimated to total about 70.

Shocknessy Gives Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio's Turnpike Commission chairman is giving up three public posts in order to spend more time on his two state jobs as a result of the energy crisis.

Chairman James Shocknessy said he would give up the posts to devote more time to fuel-related matters as turnpike executive and next year, to spend more time on the Ohio Constitution Revision Commission.

Never Saw

Kidnapers

ROME (AP) — The mother of J. Paul Getty III says her son was kept blindfolded during most of his five-month captivity and never saw the faces of any of his kidnapers.

Young Getty's mother, the former actress Gail Harris, spent all day Sunday with her son in the Rome clinic to which he was taken after he turned up early Saturday in southern Italy.

Police sources said the 17-year-old grandson of oil billionaire J. Paul Getty was under sedation at the clinic and was unable to give a coherent account of his long ordeal.

But two Rome newspapers said he told his mother he was conscious when his kidnapers were cutting off his right ear, which a Rome newspaper received on Nov. 10 as proof that the boy was being held.

"They hit me on the head to knock me out, but I felt everything," Getty reportedly said. "It was terrible. But I will not get a plastic ear made. I don't want to forget this moment of my life."

Getty told police he was kidnaped in the Piazza Farnese, a hangout for hippies and drug dealers in the heart of Rome, during the night of July 10.

His family reportedly paid a ransom of $2.7 million for his release. A police patrol found him at a gasoline station near Lagonegro, 125 miles south of Naples, early Saturday.

"Every time we started talking of the kidnaping he would burst into tears," said a police spokesman.

Impeachment Backers Drop

In Latest Opinion Survey

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The latest Gallup Poll indicates the percentage of Americans who believe President Nixon should be forced out of office has dropped slightly after rising steadily since June.

Thirty-five per cent of those questioned in a Nov. 30-Dec. 3 survey said the President should be impeached and compelled to leave office. That poll showed a drop of two per cent from a Nov. 2-5 survey.

In both surveys a majority of Americans said they opposed impeaching Nixon. And both polls also showed the majority of the public disapproving of the way Nixon is handling the presidency.

The latest survey came after Nixon began his "Operation Candor," in which he made a number of public appearances across the country, but before he made public his income tax returns Dec. 9.

Thirty seven per cent favored Nixon's removal in early November. The percentage had risen steadily since a June 22-25 poll, when 19 per cent said Nixon should be removed.

The latest poll also showed that five per cent of those interviewed had taken some action urging Nixon's impeachment, such as signing a petition or writing a letter to a congressman or the news media.

The 1,550 adults questioned in the latest survey were asked: "Do you think President Nixon should be impeached and compelled to leave the presidency, or not?"

Thirty-five per cent replied yes, 54 per cent said no and 11 per cent expressed no opinion. The percentages in the Nov. 2-5 survey were 37 yes, 54 no and nine no opinion.

Among Republicans, the number who favored impeachment rose from six per cent in June to 12 per cent in the latest survey. Among Democrats, it went from 27 to 50 per cent, and among independents, from 18 to 36 per cent.

In Findlay Case

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—Sargent Industries Inc. of Los Angeles, Calif., has been ordered by a federal judge in Toledo to pay back funds into a pension program for employees of a subsidiary which moved out of the state.

U.S. District Court Judge Nicholas Walinski ruled Thursday that the firm pay more than $1 million in back pension allocations from the time Garwood Industries, Inc. of Findlay moved to Wayne, Mich. in October 1971.

The pension program covered 237 workers, many members of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers Lodge 1194.

The original complaint was filed in August 1971 in a county common pleas court. Later, after a jurisdictional battle, it was moved to a federal court.

Train Derails No One Injured

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—A Penn Central Railroad engine and one car of a train derailed here Saturday but was restored to service a short time later without injury to the crew, a Penn Central spokesman said.

East Liverpool police said they were investigating a report that dissident truckers, part of the nationwide work stoppage campaign, interfered with progress of a crane sent to lift the equipment back onto the tracks.

The sides of a section of Ohio 39 which runs through this town were jammed with trucks which one observer estimated to total about 70.

By DAWN REDMAN
Wrestling season is now underway at Logan Elm. As this is only the second year for this sport, the matmen are still developing the holds and improving skills. Practices are held at Pickaway Township School regularly after school.
Coach Stan Wilamowski is very enthusiastic about all the guys out for the team. As the wrestling season is just starting, he made this statement, "with a year's experience, it seems that four or five boys may profit. I feel that with the experience the boys will acquire in the tournaments, will give them the much needed confidence going into the sectionals and district meets."

Set Catered Christmas In Prison

MOUNDSVILLE, W.Va. (AP) — The bleak mess hall at the West Virginia Penitentiary here will be transformed for this Saturday's Christmas buffet.
The dinner in one of the oldest buildings in the century-old maximum-security prison is being catered by Ernie's Esquire, a Wheeling supperclub.
Red tablecloths, green napkins, silver candelabra, serving tables draped with white Austrian shades and a punch fountain will provide atmosphere for the 500 inmates and their guests.
The menu for the estimated 2,200 dinner guests will feature steamship round of beef, ham, salads, vegetables, dessert and punch.
The buffet is part of a daylong holiday party that will allow the inmates to spend several hours with friends and relatives in a relaxed atmosphere.
The inmates are using profits from their commissary to underwrite the estimated $10,000 cost of the dinner and party.
Charlotte Eaton, manager of the Wheeling supperclub, said she was reluctant to discuss the possibility of serving the dinner after being contacted by authorities. She said the largest event Ernie's had catered was a 500-guest wedding reception.
Cooks will begin preparing the 2,100 pounds of beef and 1,200 pounds of ham later this week.
"We're preparing some extra food," she said, adding that she had seen the inmates going through the food line and "they ate an awful lot."

Gal Rides Horse Through Cincy

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Riding a horse 50 miles in 19-degree weather on a crosscountry path including Cincinnati's slums in post-midnight hours was "just a good opportunity" for a youthful school teacher.
It was also the last fling for country girl Jan McConner while the 23-year-old biology instructor adjusts to city life.
After her 17-hour romp was over Sunday night, she said, "I'm not a bit sore, just my feet."
"In an endurance ride like this you have to walk the horse a lot and city pavement is tough on the feet."
The Salem, Ohio native has lived with horses since she was 10 in the rich, rolling farm country of eastern Ohio. She even stabled her gelding, Jodi near the campus while attending Miami University at Oxford.
Since moving into a Cincinnati apartment and launching a teaching career, "I just didn't have the opportunity to ride anymore."

City life is really nice but it doesn't have the space or the peace of the country," she said. "That's why I decided I'd have to sell Jodi."
Trouble began when Jim Moore of New Richmond, Ohio showed up at Jodi's boarding barn last week. Jodi wouldn't budge.
So, Jan decided to ride him. "It was a good opportunity," she said, "I've always wanted to take a cross country ride."
The route ran 50 miles from Butler County northwest of Cincinnati, through the city of 452,000 and 17 miles to the southeast along the Ohio River.
She made the first leg Saturday—about 23 miles to her apartment. Neighbors stared. They thought it odd to have a horse tied all night to the shrubbery in front.

Early Sunday before daybreak, she was off again through the city, clip-clopping through a number of high crime areas.
"A policeman stopped me and kept asking if I knew what I was doing," she said. "He had some kids in the cruiser he'd arrested and they cracked up."
There were a few scary moments. Once Jodi ran off breaking a bridge, cars slammed on brakes to avoid hitting them from the rear. She had to walk him across a half-mile viaduct with a whistling train moving underneath.
"One funny thing happened," she said. "There was this drunk staggering down a street singing. All at once he saw me, shut up, did a double take, and straightened up and walked off just as straight as you please."
She said her motives for owning a horse were not necessarily ecological, although she believes in conservation as a biologist.
"It cost me about 50 cents for the feed," she tabulated. "It would have cost about $10 or $15 with a truck. I didn't cause any air pollution but there was some solid waste deposited here and there."
And she has an exciting story to tell her students, many of whom wouldn't believe she would take the ride.
"It wasn't bad at all," said the brown-haired, blue-eyed, freckled-face former "Tom Boy." "It was peaceful with so little traffic."
"But I don't consider myself a tomboy anymore. That's not normal."

Goldwater Raps House Members

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has called for the House leadership to "shut up or put up" in the consideration of impeachment proceedings against President Nixon.
In an interview with the Christian Science Monitor published today, the Arizona Republican and former presidential candidate said it is imperative that consideration of impeachment be concluded rapidly.
"They're (members of the House Judiciary Committee) not playing around with the Republican party and the Democratic party — they're playing around with the American people," Goldwater said.
He criticized Nixon for failing to move quickly enough to dispel doubts about the President's innocence in the Watergate affair.
"He chose to dabble and dabble and argue on very nebulous grounds like executive privilege and confidentiality, when all the American people wanted to know was the truth," Goldwater said.

If the President had openly discussed the issue, "I think Watergate would have been history by now and Mr. Nixon would be way back up on the popularity poll," Goldwater said.
The President may have been slow to respond to the Watergate issue because of his hesitancy to accept advice from others, the senator said.
"The President, I think, thinks of himself as the supreme politician in this country. And being a loner, I think he sits by himself and tells himself what he's going to do."
"Now we went through this gesture period of having congressmen and senators down to see him, but it seems to have ended. And this is what I was afraid of — that it would be a one-pitch goal and that would end it."
"And as a result, he's not getting advice. That's his problem. He's not getting it. And when he gets it, he doesn't listen to it."

New Process Used To Trap Sulfur In Coal

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP) — Researchers at West Virginia University are working with a process that combines lime with pulverized coal to trap polluting sulfur in coal ashes.
The process, known as Sulfurtrain, is being developed in WVU's Coal Research Bureau by technician William H. Buttermore. Other processes to remove sulfur from coal usually occur before burning or trapping it in smokestacks after burning.
In Buttermore's experiments, as the coal burns the calcium in the lime combines with the coal's sulfur to form calcium sulfate. It, in turn, is left behind with other inert materials in coal and forms ash.
Buttermore says the process has been successful on a laboratory scale and he hopes to be able to apply it to commercial operations, such as coal-fired electrical generating plants.

UCLA Bruins Remain Unbeatable Combo

By JOHN NELSON Associated Press Sports Writer

The UCLA story: If one man doesn't beat you, the other one will.

"I was just happy that the players could withstand adversity," said UCLA basketball Coach John Wooden after his Bruins had defeated North Carolina State 84-66 Saturday and captured their 79th straight victory.

The one man is 6-foot-11 Bill Walton, who sat on the bench for 21 minutes after he was called for four fouls early in the first half — "adversity" in Wooden's words.

The other man is 6-7 Keith Wilkes who scored 27 points and held his opposite number, 6-4 All-American David Thompson, to just 17 points, including seven of 20 from the floor.

"I don't like his shot at all," said Wooden of Wilkes' stiff-arm, over-the-head jumper.

"I just like the way it goes through the hoop."

But Wooden didn't feel Wilkes' performance was a surprise, even though the 20-year-old grandson of a Baptist minister has played in Walton's shadow most of his college basketball career.

Both teams came out visibly tight — UCLA putting its 78-game winning streak on the line and No. 2 N.C. State playing what it must have figured its toughest game of season.

At one point, North Carolina State took a 23-20 lead and at halftime led 33-32.

Walton finally came off the bench in the second half with the score tied 54-54. And behind the shooting and rebounding of Walton and Wilkes, the Bruins took a 73-56 lead in five minutes.

In other games involving the Top Ten Saturday, No. 3 Indiana beat Ball State 86-62, No. 7 Marquette defeated Minnesota 68-50, No. 8 Providence edged Austin Peay 94-82, No. 9 Louisville dropped Florida State 90-78, and No. 10 Memphis State breezed past East Texas State 99-76.

No. 12 Long Beach State beat Long Island University 60-46, Seaton Hall dropped No. 17 San Francisco 89-83, 15th-ranked Kansas State beat Brigham Young 95-85, No. 19 Jacksonville defeated Oral Roberts 91-86, and No. 20 Southern California got by Arizona State 79-70.

Wilkes' shot from underneath opened a 42-35 wedge early in the in the first half, and two more baskets by the forward made it 50-44 with less than 13 minutes left.

"You don't have a great basketball team like UCLA's if you are a one-man team," said North Carolina State Coach Norm Sloan. "They did not wilt under pressure. They have been there before and they know what it is like."

"I hope we're better than this, but we'll have to wait and see," Sloan said.

John Laskowski and Steve Green had 15 points each to lead an Indiana team that shot 62 per cent from the floor in the first half and moved to an easy victory over Ball State.

No. 7 Marquette shattered Minnesota's pressure defense, sparked by Maurice Lucas' 21 points. Marquette Coach Al McGuire was charged with a technical for kicking the official scorer's table early in the game.

Marvin Barnes scored a school record 52 points to lead Providence over Austin Peay. The former school record, 50 points, was set by All-American Jimmy Walker. Barnes also grabbed 19 rebounds.

Bill Butler scored 27 points and Junior Bridgeman had 22 and grabbed 17 rebounds to lead Louisville. Louisville connected on 55.7 per cent of its field goal attempts compared to Florida State's 42 per cent.

Sophomore forward John Washington of Memphis State came off the bench to block eight shots, grab 12 rebounds and score 14 points. It was the Tigers' sixth victory against Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A splendid day for clearing away recent differences which, if allowed to crystallize, could become real problems. A bit of frank talking could do the trick.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Judgments of the a.m. could not only be a bit "cloudy" but, if based on overoptimism, could have disappointing results. Your instincts can be trusted after 3 p.m., however.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): A good day for looking into unusual offers—but with a watchful eye. Especially favored: writings, travel, cultural pursuits.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): You know what you want now, so keep after it. Brook interference from no one and insist on the privacy you need to carry out your plans.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Avoid overtaxing yourself—a tendency now. Temper your ambitions and desires with common sense.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): A bit of news received unexpectedly could have a happy impact on your finances; may concern a sound but long-range investment proposition.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Stellar influences excellent! If projects seem to have been going awry recently, now's the time to try again. Imagination and ingenuity stimulated.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): New opportunities indicated in many fields—but especially where monetary interests are concerned. A splendid time for consolidating your position in this respect.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Don't discuss financial or domestic problems with friends or associates. Some situations are best kept "in the family"—especially now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Indifference could spoil what should otherwise be a good day. Good opportunities available, but you'll have to seek them out. They won't be left on your doorstep.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): With your keenness for detecting flaws and your good humor, you can solve practically all of the "little" quandaries waiting to trip the unwary.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Planetary influences encourage both long-pending and new ventures. Your innate intuition and foresight should be especially keen now.

YOU BORN TODAY are innately energetic, can be a "ball of fire" when the urge takes over; are concise, skillful and effective in endeavors. You were born to do "big" things, are never satisfied with the mediocre. You are highly perceptive and inventive; would make a brilliant business executive, head of a corporation or financier. Your gift for mediation and your powers of persuasiveness make you an outstanding arbiter or negotiator; are also helpful assets to a legal career. In the professional world, you could also choose science, music, literature or playwriting as a life work. Curb tendencies toward selfishness and too great a desire for comfort and luxury. NEW YORK (AP) — Excluding the efforts of disc jockeys and politicians, radio humor these days is as rare as an open gas station on Sunday. But there's always an exception.

A syndicated exception is the National Lampoon Comedy Hour, which kicked off in mid-November and now is creating aural confusion once a week on nearly 100 radio stations in the United States.

What prompted the show? "Greed," said Michael O'Donoghue, editor of National Lampoon magazine, a sharply satirical publication.

O'Donoghue, who serves as creative director of NL's radio proceedings and helps other staffers on the magazine write and perform the show, got serious for a moment.

"What started it for me was that I'd gotten a little tired of putting out a magazine for three years," he said. "I thought it'd be fun to do something different."

It turned out, he added, that this particular something caused a lot more work than envisioned, mainly because NL's troupe spends a lot of time dashing from studio to studio, recording in one, adding sound effects in another and editing it all in yet another.

"We're working 100-hour weeks," he groaned.

Fortunately, he said, Lampoon almost has finished building its own recording studio. When it's completed, the troupe will be able to tape and edit the whole show there and greatly reduce their long hours of dashing about and waiting for studio space.

What is the program like? "It's 60 minutes of mirth, merriment and mindless hostility," O'Donoghue said. Then he got serious again. "Actually, it's very much the magazine translated into sound."

"It's very fast and staccato, like a radio 'Laugh-In.' It's quite different in pace from the old style of radio. I've listened to that kind and it's really slow."

"I mean, Fibber McGee just walks around in his living room for five minutes," O'Donoghue, 33, said three basic types of performers appear on the show—Lampoon writers and editors; specialists who do off-screen "voice-overs" for radio and TV commercials, and professional thespians, many drawn from Lampoon's hit off-Broadway show, "The Lemmings."

How's the main response to all the shows aired so far? "It's just begun," he said. "We have one marriage proposal to Anne Beatts"—a regular on the show—"who is our token woman. That's it."

O'Donoghue said Lampoon plans doing 39 original Comedy Hours and 13 repeats compiled from this season's best shows. Why not 52 originals? It would cause battle fatigue, he explained, adding:

"I'm not spending the summer like this."

NEW YORK (AP) — Excluding the efforts of disc jockeys and politicians, radio humor these days is as rare as an open gas station on Sunday. But there's always an exception.

A syndicated exception is the National Lampoon Comedy Hour, which kicked off in mid-November and now is creating aural confusion once a week on nearly 100 radio stations in the United States.

What prompted the show? "Greed," said Michael O'Donoghue, editor of National Lampoon magazine, a sharply satirical publication.

O'Donoghue, who serves as creative director of NL's radio proceedings and helps other staffers on the magazine write and perform the show, got serious for a moment.

"What started it for me was that I'd gotten a little tired of putting out a magazine for three years," he said. "I thought it'd be fun to do something different."

It turned out, he added, that this particular something caused a lot more work than envisioned, mainly because NL's troupe spends a lot of time dashing from studio to studio, recording in one, adding sound effects in another and editing it all in yet another.

"We're working 100-hour weeks," he groaned.

Fortunately, he said, Lampoon almost has finished building its own recording studio. When it's completed, the troupe will be able to tape and edit the whole show there and greatly reduce their long hours of dashing about and waiting for studio space.

What is the program like?

"It's 60 minutes of mirth, merriment and mindless hostility," O'Donoghue said. Then he got serious again. "Actually, it's very much the magazine translated into sound."

"It's very fast and staccato, like a radio 'Laugh-In.' It's quite different in pace from the old style of radio. I've listened to that kind and it's really slow."

"I mean, Fibber McGee just walks around in his living room for five minutes."

O'Donoghue, 33, said three basic types of performers appear on the show—Lampoon writers and editors; specialists who do off-screen "voice-overs" for radio and TV commercials; and professional thespians, many drawn from Lampoon's hit off-Broadway show, "The Lemmings."

How's the main response to all the shows aired so far?

"It's just begun," he said. "We have one marriage proposal to Anne Beatts"—a regular on the show—"who is our token woman. That's it."

O'Donoghue said Lampoon plans doing 39 original Comedy Hours and 13 repeats compiled from this season's best shows. Why not 52 originals? It would cause battle fatigue, he explained, adding:

"I'm not spending the summer like this."

The Great Pyramid in Egypt, the only wonder of the ancient world still standing, took 20 years to build on order of King Cheops, who wanted it for a spacious burial place for himself.

The Charlie Brown Dictionary

*New and delightful.
Now it's fun to learn words!*

- Here is a new and appealing way to help children learn words and their meanings. The Charlie Brown Dictionary is no ordinary work but a fresh, happy, educationally sound collection of words and definitions.
- Children love the over 600 Charles M. Schulz drawings of Charlie Brown and the Peanuts gang that brighten the pages. They respond to the definitions that are easy to read and understand.
- Charlie Brown himself, Snoopy wearing his dish as a hat, Linus with his security blanket, Lucy giving advice, all help to motivate children to learn about the over 2,500 carefully chosen words defined in these volumes.
- In addition there are 53 pages of world and state maps and facts to make geography come alive.
- The Charlie Brown Dictionary uses a new educational technique developed by Wendell W. Wright, Ph.D. Dean of the School of Education, University of Indiana. The result is a true children's classic of eight colorful, hard cover volumes that belong in every home.
